3 STARS PARELLI INSTRUCTOR

From: Harmony Hills, Sherbrooke

Kari Bowser's passion is

Helping riders understand why their horse responds the way they do—and how to respond with clarity and confidence.

Kari Bowser is a Parelli Natural Horsemanship professional known for her ability to bridge the communication gap between horses and humans. Her work is grounded in the belief that most challenges are not behavioral problems, but misunderstandings rooted in emotion, timing, and perception.

Kari specializes in helping students learn to:

- Apply the Parelli program with intention, precision, and purpose
- Read and interpret emotional states
- Recognize what the horse is truly communicating

With over a decade of experience working with a wide range of horses and riders, Kari is particularly sought out by students who:

- Don't know where to start or how to progress
- Feel "stuck" despite doing the right exercises
- Work with sensitive, emotional, or shut-down horses
- Want depth and understanding – not just repetition

Kari's teaching style is calm, structured, and insightful. She helps riders slow down, develop feel, and make decisions their horse can trust. Her clinics are known for being supportive, clear, and transformational.

Students consistently leave with:

- Increased confidence and leadership
- Better decision-making skills
- A stronger, more connected partnership with their horse

Kari lives on a 50-acre ranch in the Eastern Townships of Quebec, near Lennoxville. She hosts clinics and learning experiences in an environment intentionally designed to support both horses and humans.

The facility offers a calm and horse-centered setting with safe, functional spaces for groundwork and riding. Time may be spent for observation, discussion, and reflection that prioritizes understanding the why behind the work. A place to slow down, ask questions, and engage in meaningful discussion fostering deep learning.

Kari has spent 30 weeks studying on campus with Pat Parelli and other top professionals. She credits her success to mentors to 5-Star Parelli Professionals Don Halladay, John Baar and Lauren Barwick.

BON APPRENTISSAGE À TOUS !
